Quiz Instructions

I will periodically check for new submissions of the essay assignment for this unit.

Once you have submitted your essay, you will receive 2 things from me via email:

- 1. Another student's Essay
- 2. The access code to complete this peer-review assignment

Please read over their essay carefully (at least twice) and then answer these questions. The answers you give will affect the other student's grade on the assignment and will be the main form of feedback they receive. Therefore, it is essential that you be thoughtful, honest, and clear in your feedback.

There is no curve for these assignments. Therefore, there is no incentive to give dishonest scores.

This peer review assignment is worth 3 points:

1 point for completion

Up to 2 points for quality

Feedback is of high quality when it is thoughtful, clear, and (in the essay answers) presented with both honesty and kindness.

The author will rate the quality of your feedback in the metareview assignment. Their rating will affect the grade you receive. I will also be comparing your feedback to my own impression of the author's work when I determine your grade for this peer review

Note: Canvas will automatically give you full credit (3 points) when you submit this. However, since there's only 1 point for completing it, your grade may go down once I have graded it.

Identify at least 1 important aspect of the answer where you believe the author could've done a better job and explain how they could have done better.

Notes

Don't just say, "You should've done x better." They might not understand what you mean by x and they'll have no idea how you think it should've been done.

Instead, start by paraphrasing or quoting from their answer, e.g., "You said blah blah blah about x." Then explain what would have been better and why, e.g., "But I feel this would've been better if you had done yeah yeah yeah(s).

That's because yeah yeah yeah(s) is..."

Even the best answer can be improved. Don't just say "It's all great"
